Up to biotechnology's challenges

By Shaikh Mohd Saifuddin

This significant discovery could be regarded as the first small step that mankind made in entering the uncharted territory of the age of his brother.

From the perspective of science, the DNA, or better known as the gene, is the basic building block of all lives.

Since then, biotechnology and its related fields such as biomedicine, biopharmaceutics, proteomics, agricultural biotechnology and many others have seen much progress. In the short period of 50 years, much has taken place since the discovery by Watson and Crick.

Since the genetic code is considered the basic building block of life, then it is important that Muslims do not take lightly issues pertaining to genetics. After all, the first revelation in the Quran highlights the development of the embryo in the mother's womb. This should act as a strong reminder that matters pertaining to the life sciences should be taken seriously by Muslims.

When it comes to scientific research, man should be guided so as not to go beyond the accepted norms of society, culture and religion. While Islam encourages the quest for knowledge through scientific discovery, it should be noted that scientists must know the ethical and religious boundaries and limits that must be observed.

Society, this is why Islam outlines the akhlaq so as to ensure that we would not deviate into performing acts that are batil or ma'adhal and would

Several countries have ethical guidelines in place, in particular germline therapy, in which the genetic material of sperm or egg cells is altered. This is done to prevent the transmission of a disease to future generations. However, it is also possible to use germline therapy to enhance human traits, such as intelligence or physical appearance. This raises ethical concerns about the potential for eugenics and the creation of a genetic elite.

Of course, there are many other issues brought about by the development in biotechnology that have important implications.

Some of those issues have been discussed by Muslim scholars and jurists at great length, such as human cloning.

yang lebih indah, maka kita harus lebih banyak belajar tentang dunia ini. Oleh karena itu, pendidikan harus mampu meningkatkan wawasan masyarakat, agar mereka menyadari bahwa dunia ini adalah tempat yang indah dan menakutkan.

Di sisi lain, pada masa ini juga terjadi peningkatan kesadaran masyarakat akan pentingnya pendidikan. Banyak orang tua yang mulai memperhatikan pendidikan anaknya, bahkan sampai ke jenjang pendidikan tinggi. Hal ini menunjukkan bahwa masyarakat sudah mulai menyadari bahwa pendidikan adalah kunci untuk membuka masa depan yang lebih baik.

Pendidikan juga memiliki peran yang sangat penting dalam meningkatkan kualitas sumber daya manusia. Dengan pendidikan, seseorang dapat mengembangkan potensi dirinya, meningkatkan keterampilan, dan memperluas wawasan. Hal ini akan membantu seseorang untuk menghadapi tantangan-tantangan di masa depan.

Oleh karena itu, pendidikan harus terus dikembangkan dan ditingkatkan. Pemerintah, masyarakat, dan keluarga harus bekerja sama untuk memastikan bahwa setiap anak memiliki akses yang sama terhadap pendidikan yang berkualitas. Dengan demikian, kita dapat menciptakan generasi yang lebih cerdas, kreatif, dan bertanggung jawab.
